FOR THE RECORD. . .

Grand Prairie, the town I came from to Cameron, has been named an All-American City in its population category. It is now a suburban city of about 60,000 outside Dallas.

And Cameron is named winner in its population category for the 1974 Governor's Community Achievement Award.

Small world.

So the "country town that would always be a country town" has become a microcosm of state-level acclaim. The macrocosm hasn't done nearly as well, that is, the major cities whose centers are disintegrating while Cameron's is gathering additional space and beauty each week.

The award here is meaningful for the usual numerous reasons, but also because the category includes more towns than any other, since most towns approximate 5,000 to 10,000 in Texas.

Cameron is anything but "anytown" but numerous ones tried to keep it that way.

Though a pessimist in approaching problems but an optimist in seeing solutions, I must say the smallest person can surprise himself if he learns to see himself as part of something. That is not an easy thing these days. For many of us, it is impossible.

For a community to attack the social, economic and political realities of the 60s and 70s, that community must be willing to look at itself differently every rising day.

The incongruous becomes congruous, the wet dry, the dark light, the old new. Motivating colors are not black or white nor merely shades of intervening gray. They are brilliant, they are burnished, but they are rainbow-after-a-100-year rainfall true.

I have put words into this Milam town that might have created something much wider read. But would they have created more?

I am not so sure, and there is still plenty of time for writing where a critical audience might compare. But nothing more will be at stake than the life of a book or essay or short story.

The life of a town, its people, its continuity more than its history is critical in a time regions, states and nations are in flux for what they are and what they may become.

If a community this size can gap a century in a decade, as this one has, it is possible that the macrocosm may restore sanity to its outer reaches, extract its decaying roots, hypothesize new ones and make them grow.

Cameron has done this. And among so many hundreds of towns this size, Cameron was at least among the least likely to succeed.

Town Meeting To Make Plans For City Award

A Town Meeting to make plans for presentation of Cameron's award in the Governor's Community Achievement program will be held at 5 p.m. May 1 (today) at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The award will be presented by Governor Dolph Broscoe in June at a meeting in Fort Worth and a delegation from Cameron is expected to attend and accept the award.

Cameron's entry was submitted to the Beautify Texas Council and judged by 10 judges who selected Cameron over all other cities in the 5,000 to 10,000 category

The award is based on community improvement efforts for the year 1974.

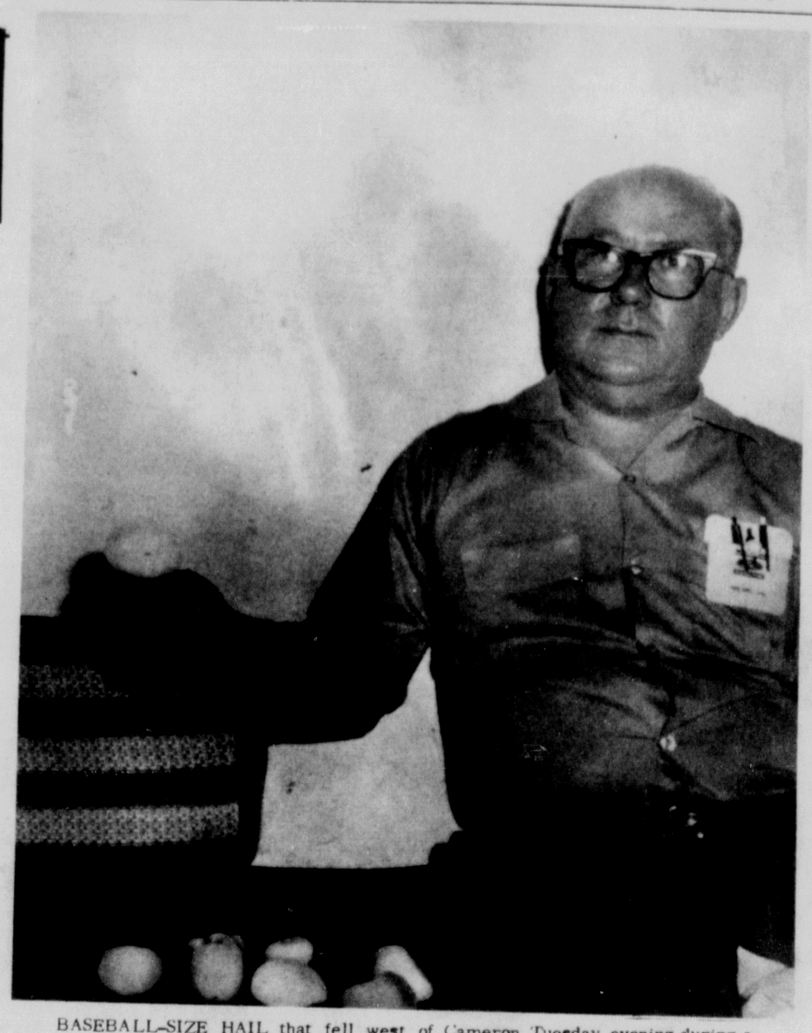
The public is invited to attend the meeting and sandwiches and cold drinks will be served upon arrival.

Registration Set For First Grade, Kindergarten

Registration for kindergarten and first grade students for the 1975-76 school year will be held in the Ben Milam principal's office May 8, 12, 13, and 14.

Children now attending all-day and second semester kindergarten need not pre-register for the first grade. Those students that attended the first semester kindergarten do nee d to pre-register for the first grade.

Children who have not attended kindergarten in Cameron will be required to have a birth certificate and up to date immunization records. The office will be open from 91-2 The office will be open 9-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.



BASEBALL-SIZE HAIL that fell west of Cameron Tuesday evening during a severe thunderstorm are shown by Vernon Reimer, who collected a bagful and brought them to The Herald Wednesday morning.

Storm Dumps Hail In County

Unconfirmed reports of a tornado touching down in an open field two miles south of Cameron headlined the weather outburst Tuesday afternoon as black clouds boiling over Milam County dumped hail and rain over a wide area.

Police, highway patrol, and Cameron volunteer firemen rushed to Calvert Tuesday evening after a tornado hit the outskirts of the city, knocking out power to most of the city, temporarily knocking out telephone communications and causing some property damage.

Police Chief Felipe Martinez and officer Maurice Lowrey from Cameron answered a call for aid, along with Highway Patrolman Milton Wright and members of the Cameron fire department. A National Guard unit was also called to Calvert.

Other Central Texas towns reported hit were Mumford in Robertson County and Edge in Brazos County. A fifth twister reportedly hit near Marlin in Falls County.

The tornadoes and reports of high winds, hail and rain came while Central Texas was under a tornado warning.

A Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said hail and crop damage were reported in McLennan and Milam Counties. Cities reporting hail included Cameron, Sharp, Robinson, Bellmead and Rosenthal. The spokesman said he received unconfirmed reports of hail as large as baseballs.

In Cameron, hail downtown was about marble-size, but water department employees collected hail as large as hen eggs in other parts of the city. Reports were of baseball-size hail around Pettibone.

No reports were available about any crop damage caused by the hail.

Cameron was hit by tornado-like winds for about five minutes early Monday morning. The winds cut a swath through the south part of the city, breaking plate glass windows in one business and felling several trees.

Lumpkin Wins Council Seat

In the city council runoff election Tuesday, incumbent councilman Gene Lumpkin was re-elected with a total of 347 votes, with his opponent James Kahler receiving 242 votes.

One write-in vote was cast for Porter Young, making a total of 590 votes cast in the election.

Cameron Awaits Designation As Official Bicentennial City

The designation of Cameron as an official Bicentennial City is expected in a few weeks, following submission of the city's application to the State Bicentennial Commission, according to Jim Lafferty, chairman of the Cameron Bicentennial Commission.

Upon approval of the application, the city will be presented with an official State Bicentennial flag during a ceremony on the downtown mall, Lafferty said.

The local commission was appointed by the City of Cameron, and it will be expanded to include more members who will also be approved by the city council.

The commission has adopted an number of goals for three areas of the Bicentennial celebration. They are "Heritage '76" which concentrates on the heritage of the past, with Larry Morrow as chairman; "Festival USA," for happenings through several periods, with Mrs. Reeves Brown as chairman; and "Horizons '76" ongoing projects continuing into the future, with Mrs. Alma Bush as chairman.

Alcoa Challenges STATES Claims

Alcoa officials challenged statistics issued in a news release from STATES an ad hoc organization to "Save Texas Agriculture, Timber, and Ecosystems from stripmining."

The news release published in The Herald of April 21 claimed that strip mining of lignite in Milam County would cause the county to lose an estimated $8,886,758 per year of agricultural income.

Alcoa is mining through Industrial Generating Co. at an estimated 90 to 95 acres a year from about 2500 acres of lignite land.

Information from Alcoa sources notes Alcoa is spending about $650 an acre to restore mined land. This includes filling up, neutralizing the soil, fertilizing, planting grass and trees. The land is being restored so that farm equipment can operate on it.

Alcoa says it is reclaiming and restoring about 110 to 120 acres a year, and since reclamation began full scale in 1971 over 500 acres have been reclaimed and restored, with work continuing on a regular basis.

Comparing tne 2500 acres of lignite land owned by Alcoa, and the 90 to 95 acres mined each year, the 1970 census shows 191,920 acres of cropland in Milam County, 224,392 acres of pasture, 88,071 acres of range, a total of 658, 112 acres.

Bill McCutchen, Milam County agent, says in addition there are some 15,269 acres in urban and developed land and about 2,650 acres in small water lakes.

McCutchen told one interviewer that the land reclaimed by Alcoa after stripping the lignite is more valuable now than it was before it was mined.

McCutchen said he estimated that in a year the approximate 90 acres of land in the Alcoa area, if planted to melons, would gross about $13,500 and net abour $6,750. If planted to peanuts it would gross about $24,750 and net about $9,000 annually.

The STATES news release didn't say the loss is occuring now, but claimed that the near $9 million would be lost by stripping of the strippable lignite in the county.

The release stated that the STATES computaion on losses is based on lignite figures in the 1974 report by the Bureau of Economic Geology, University of Texas, agricultural land figures in the 1967 U.S. Census of Agriculture, and payments for agricultural products in the 1973 reports of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the US Department of [illegible].

FIRST AID COURSE for Day Care Center workers was held Saturday, under the direction of the Milam County Red Cross Chapter, and led by John David Thompson and Nelson Mueller. Here the participants practice removing obstacles from the throat before using mouth-mouth resusitation.

Effective Business Letters

Good typing and fine cotton fiber paper may be prerequisites for an effective business letter. But here are some tips aimed at making your letters better "sales reps" for your company.

1. Make your letters simple. Discuss your subject naturally—as you might in conversation—but with a tone of confidence. Nothing is quite so effective as a tone that cries out assurance.

2. Make your letters short and to the point. Avoid needless words and information, as this will bog a reader down and cut down on the urgency of your message.

3. Choose your stationery carefully. A crisp paper with a well-designed letterhead makes a positive statement about your company. And cotton fiber (rag) paper handsomely reveals the detail of a good letterhead, contributing greatly to a quality image.

An executive who stops to consider that a letter reflects his company's image on a variety of levels will gain a new self-awareness. And he'll learn the art of subtle persuasiveness.

Every one who has been in love knows that the passion is strongest, and the appetite weakest, in the absence of the beloved object, and that the reverse is the case in her presence.

Who's New In Saigon?

And like it or not, the U.S. must evaluate its presence, its investment, its contributions, its role as 214 million among three billion. South Vietnam is only perhaps 25 million among more than a billion now going behind half-drawn Bamboo-Iron Curtain. Events allow us no license to say a petition divides, only obscures.

We are out of South Vietnam and a communist-dominated coalition is about to bring Saigon-Hanoi together. We contribute in some degree to its being less a partnership and more a committee.

We supported pupperty which, in oriental fashion, couldn't keep its hands off a percentage of our largess to the people of Vietnam. This is food for communist propaganda, basis for political assassination which is now occurring.

U. S. officials are flown from the rooftop of the American embassy. Others are flown by C-130 boxcars to the Phillipines or Guam or Hawaii. Tens of thousands of Vietnamese are in Guam and soon in three vacant military posts here.

The numbers game is going against us in South Vietnam. It might not have been necessary to have two successors to Thieu in a week if Thieu had represented the elements of progress represented by Sigman Rhee in Korea 20 years ago. South Korea is now a major industrial entity in Asia.

Perhaps we were immersed in a game of dominoes whose rules changed through the stakes stand. And we were incognizant of the change.

We fought a European War in the jungle. We advised too long, fought too long too late.

The momentum went over to the North and we are out.

We might remember that next time a colony is in trouble in Asia. Now who do we deal with?

Beautifully And Well....

Representatives from Cameron will receive a plaque in June from governor Dolph Briscoe for 1974's top rating in the 5,000-10,000 population category of the Governor's Community Achievement Award.

It is the first time Cameron had entered such an evaluation contest. And winning among towns of 5,000 to 10,000 is significant in that Texas has more communities approximating this size than any other.

Cameron Chamber officials report that 10 competent judges reviewed narrative reports of civic and beautification programs in competitive towns. Cameron's narrative of seven areas of improvement won.

The report on 1974's improvements went to the Beautify Texas Council. But this beautificiation and contemporary development only is the top of an emerging iceberg.

It is good to see long, serious, difficult, experimental years of finance, planning, development, destruction, reconstruction, modernization, and beautification find 'this' reward. The women's committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce saw to the compilation of the report.

But the entire community or segments of the entire community enabled this narrative to come true. It is indeed a success story culminating in a handsome, planned community rapidly merging with the 21st centuy.

And to do it beautifully and well is indeed rewarding to a town which has worked for every honor it now begins to receive.

Utilities Regulation Bill Runs Into Stiff Criticism

A utilities regulatory bill finally surfaced in the Senate but immediately ran into stiff criticism after early indications it might pass promptly.

Some charged it would mean an automatic rate increase for most utilities because of provisions of the rating formula. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby termed this concern a "misapprehension."

The bill would set up a three-member appointed Public Utility Commission with jurisdiction over intrastate telephone rates.

Cities would retain jurisdiction over electric and gas rates. The Utilities Commission would have jurisdiction over electric rates outside city limits, while the Railroad Commission would have jurisdiction over gas rates outside municipal boundaries.

Appeals from electric rate decisions by cities would go to the Utilities Commission. Appeals in gas rate cases would go to the Railroad Commission.

SPEED BILL KILLED

Senators voted down 10-19 the House-passed measure which sought to limit fines for speeding violations under 70 mph to $25 (including court costs). The original bill also would have prevented 55-70 mph speeding violations from being entered in drivers' records for insurance premium enhancement and license suspension purposes.

The legislature earlier extended the present 55 mph speed limit to conform with federal energy-saving requirements. Enforcement apparently will be "monitored" by the federal government.

SUPERINTENDENTS AXED

Thirty-nine county school superintendents would receive no more state aid under a bill passed by the Senate and returned to the House.

The measure (HB 226) would take away state support for superintendents in Jasper, Newton, Sabine, Anderson, Atascosa, Austin, Bexar, Brazos, Burleson, Camp, Crosby, Delta, Donley, Eastland, Gonzales, Gregg, Hardin, Harrison, Hunt, Jack, Jones, Karnes, LaSalle, Leon, Liberty, Medina, Orange, Red River, Robertson, Rusk, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Starr, Tarrant, Tyler, Upshur, Walker, Waller and Washington Counties.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals held a lawsuit claiming Secretary of State Mark White Jr. helped dissolve a corporation in an improper manner can be tried in Travis County.

A Nueces County man should be released from custody for contempt, since he had a right not to answer a question put to him at a deposition taking, the Texas Supreme Court held.

A Dallas County black won a new trial on rape charges. The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the case, on grounds the trial judge would not allow the defendant's attorneys to question prospective jurors about racial prejudice.

AG OPINIONS

Alien children are entitled to attend public schools in their home district, regardless of whether they are legally or illegally within the U.S., Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill held:

There is no difference in rights reinstated by a pardon or a restoration to citizenship. But a restoration to citizenship might not satisfy a requirement that a pardon and a proof of innocence are necessary for an award of compensation to a wrongfully-convicted person.

The federal election campaign act amendments supercede Texas Election Code expense reporting requirements for candidates for federal office.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

The trouble with scientists is that sometimes some of them don't have enough to do and consequently come up with things that are preposterous, even if they can prove them scientifically.

For example, government scientsits have been examining the drinking water in the United States and have announced that in 79 major cities the water is highly questionable, if not possibly dangerous. At the same time, they don't recommend that the people stop drinking it.

This is what I call a scientific fact that goes nowhere. It reminds me of the graduate student who proved, after a nation-wide survey , and got his Ph.D. degree for it, that there are 3 percent more telephone poles on the left side of highways than the right side, thus providing scientifically that if you have to swerve to miss an on-coming car, your chances of hitting a telephone pole are 3 percent less if you swerve to the right. Be sure to bear that in mind. Unless you're driving on a stretch of highway where all the poles are on the right side. In fact, come to think of it, the safest way would be to check all the telephone poles before you start out on a trip. There must be some bureau in Washington, or will be when the government hears of this, that'll check this for you by helicopter. If you ask where we're going to get that many helicopters, I figure the South Vietnamese will return all those thousands we gave them and which they never did figure out any use for. (I can hear President Thieu saying now, "You double-crossed us. You gave us all those helicopters and airplanes but didn't keep any Americans over here to fly them for us.")

How'd I get off on all this when I started out talking about scientists and drinking water/ there must be a connection there somewhere but I can't put my finger on it right now. Maybe it was to tell you again about a man I know who had his water well tested, a well he'd been drinking out of satisfactorily for 30 years. The Health Department scientifically tested the water and reported it was "Contaminated, un-fit for human consumption."

"That sure taught me a lesson," the man said, gulping down a glass of his water to calm his nerves. "I'll never have that well tested again."

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters

Dear Mr. Luecke:

President Ford recommended spending sixteen billion to increase employment and save the automobile and appliance industries. But Butz and President Ford are unwilling to spend one-half of a billion ~~o ave~~ the farmers that depend on farming for a living, from going broke.

Not limiting subsidy payments to one thousand dollars has pretty well eliminated half renters and small third and fourth renters. Will limiting subsidy payments to much below the cost of production enable the corporations and others rich enough to farm at a loss and at the same time make money farming by using tax loopholes and shelter to take over our farms? The conglomerate corporations have 14% of the production already.

Consider the Soviet Union it has no energy problem since most of the people have to use bicycles instead of cars, no inflation problem since it tricks other countries out of their products, no unemployment problem as it is building an army, navy, air and missle force big enough to conquer the world.

Yours sincerely,
Paul Dillon

In Sixth Inning Rally,

Yoemen Edge Hearne Eagles, 3-2

The Cameron Yoemen gained another district win over the Hearne Eagles Friday 3-2. The Yoemen were down by a 2-0 deficit until the sixth inning when they crossed 3 runs to edge the Eagles.

After a hitless first inning the Eagles opened the scoring in their half of the second inning. Ray Anderson tagged first base on a single to left field followed by a sacrifice bunt to third base by Brett Henry. Anderson scored on a wild pitch and was the only score until the fifth inning.

J. V. Wilkins tagged home plate rubber in the fifth inning to give the Eagles the two run margin. Walkins walked and was sacrificed to second via a bunt by Ray Bird.

Another wild pitch allowed Wilkins to tag third base. Scott Sigle advanced Wilkins to home plate with a single.

The Eagles owned the game ball until the sixth inning. Bruce Zarosky stepped to th e batters box and with a hard hit infield single, he was called safe at first base.

Randy Sapp advanced the runners with a sacrifice bunt followed by a Joe Smitherman who grounded out and both runners held their territory. Jeff Smitherman toed first base due to an error by the shortstop.

Joey Mondrik unloaded with the wood and singled to center field to give passage to Zarosky to give the Yoemen one run. Gary Hornung slapped the hardball and with the help of an error by the short stop, the Yoemen were able to send two homebound runners across the plate.

This game marked the 7th district win for Jeff Smitherman and his record on the mound now stands at 7-2. Melvin Bates was the losing pitcher for the Hearne Eagles.

Coach Jon Forsythe's Yoemen are now 6-1 for district play and have earned a season record of 16-5. The Eagles dropped to a 3-4 district record.

THE YEAR OF THE YOEMEN

In athletics the Yoemen have spread fears throughout the district and now their voices will be sounded in state competition via the trackmen. The Yoemen have dominated every sport in District 23-AA and giving ground only to Hearne in track competition.

It was a close year but a winner. Elgin make this possible by defeating Caldwell, after the Yoemen had destroved Elgin 55-6.

Randy Sapp saved the Hearne game by pumping in two points at the buzzer. A loss would have sent the Yoemen into a playoff for district title.

With a solid foundation that has been gained throughout the 74-75 season another cry can be sounded: "Watch out District 23AA, the Yoemen are stronger than ever!"

At the Regional Track meet in Brenham last weekend the Yoemen qualified for the state meet in the Sprint Relay.

The team is made up of Willie Bell, Jafus White,

Coach Jon Forsythe had the following comments about the hardballers performance this past week.

"With good hustle, team determination we were able to defeat the Hearne Eagles 3-2. This was the best defensive game I have ever coached in my 2 years here at Yoe High.

"Joey Mondrik was the outstanding defensive player," Coach Forsythe added, "and we all worked together in that defensive effort to defeat the Eagles."

"During the game he (Joey Mondrik) made three of the finest plays that I have ever seen in high school ball," Forsythe continued. "We just had a tremendous team effort the whole ballgame."

"Even though we were down by two runs until the sixth inning the young men never gave up and Jeff Smitherman pitched a superb ballgame, giving up only two hits," Forsythe stated.

Coach Forsythe concluded by saying, "Gary Hornung had a real fine game along with Joe Smitherman who is really pounding the ball this season. Joe is now hittng above 500 for the season."

The Yoemen will play Leander Friday at the Leander High stadium. The game has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

ROCKETS SHOULD LAUGH!

What a laugh? How about those non-sports-type Houston sports announcers who tell listeners the NBA Houston Rockets, ". . .became winners because the Hockey Houston Aeros showed 'em how last winter." Anyone who believes those fairy tales probably believes pro wrestling is pure. . .Earl Campbell, the Tyler Rose, still looked strong in Saturday's UT Orange and White spring football finale. But, a couple Galveston Ball lads played well, too: Manuel Mehos, 225 started at left guard for the Whites while Soph-To-BE Jim Yarbrough showed some of his old brilliance in backing up the line for both teams. Starting with the White, Yarbrough, 230, crashed in to throw UT QB Marty Akins for a five-yard loss on his first play.

See where Baylor drew 8,000 people for its Green and White game, ending Grant Teaff's trumphant spring practice at Waco? There were times over the last 50 years Baylor went without a SWC championship when the Bears would love to have played a conference game with that many in the stands.

HOGS DRAW BUNCH--Speaking of Spring Games, an Arkansas fan hooted when a Baylor friend bragged about the 8,000 who showed up at Waco. "We will have 35,000 for the Red and White game" he bragged. Quarterbacking the Razorbacks will be Mike Kirkland, the Marvelously talented Pasadena High grad. . .More Arkansas-did you see where Frank Broyles said his Ike Forte, 200 and swift, maybe the best running back in the whole US of A? The TV Mr. Tonsils of Masters Fame just might get some argument out of the Aggies, what with Bubba Bean, 200, and Skip Walker, 185, poised for brilliant senior years Bubba and Skip are so good they must have been born on the run.

Reuters International News Briefs

LONDON

Western diplomats are confident that the United States defense commitments to the Atlantic Alliance will remain as firm as ever despite the debacle of its policies over Indochina. Commentators in many capitals of countries allied to the US in western Europe, the Middle East and Asia have expressed deep misgivings about the impact of America's allies of the stunning retreat of South Vietnam forces.

EASTERN TURKEY

The fugitive Kurdish guerilla, his face illuminated by a flickering oil lamp, stammered out a few words in English: "It is hopeless. There is no fighting now." The picture of despair he painted of the Iraqi Kurds was borne out by reports from Kurdish sympathizers in Turkey and by the field information available to Turkis officers in charge of the constant patrols along the border.

VIENNA

Disturbed by Vienna's waning international prestige, the Austrian government has embarked on a multimillion dollar plan to help restore the city to its former role as an international capital. The project, to build a massive center housing United Nations agencies on a site overlooking the Danube River, accompanies UN moves to give the Austrian capital a greater role in its operations.

MANILA

The Manila Hotel, a 65-year-old witness to war, a constitutional convention and thousands of sunsets over Manila Bay, at last has given way to progress. Once advertised as the "Aristocrat of the Orient," the Manila is now a demolition site that next year will house a modern hotel and shopping complex offering all the latest innovations to patrons.

Insects Damage Oak Tree Leaves

By Bill McCutchen

I have received many calls from Rockdale residents recently about Oak tree troubles and upon inspection early last week, they sure enough had them.

The problems were associated with the abnormally cool dry spring we have had allowing detrimental insects to build while the beneficial insects have been held in check by cold temperatures.

One problem noted on some oaks in the Mehaffy addition was an aphid which was injecting a toxic compound into the leaf causing one side of the leaf to grow faster than the other; thus the leaf was curling over the aphids and shielding them. The trees looked as if they had been chemically damaged before close inspection. Diazinon, Lindane, Malathion, or Dimethoate will control these insects if they are causing you problems.

The other problem, noted in the same area on oaks, was the gall wasps. These tiny mesquito sized insects lay on developing oak leaves and cause a large blister or gall to form on the leaf in which a new generation of gall wasps develop.

It is too late to do anything about these insects this year as the damage is already done. These insects cause unsightly leaves but will not kill the tree.

If this problem is an annual one, spraying next year when the leaves are about 1/3 grown usually gives good control. It is difficult to pinpoint the time when spraying is most effective.

GOOD NEWS

Ladybug adult and nymphs are building fast with warmer temperatures and in all fields checked last week, sugarcane aphids and greenbugs were being controlled by these beneficial insects.

These are still some spraying towards the end of last week, but most of it was unnecessary as aphid populations were decreasing rapidly.

Grain sorghum is finally beginning to grow, all it needs is a good soaking rain.

MARKET REPORT

There were 941 cattle and calves consigned to the Cameron livestock auction Thursday, compared with 660 last week and 700 last year. Slaughter cows and bulls were 1.00-2.00 lower, slaughter calves and yearlings steady. All feeder cattle and calves steady, choice offerings fully 50 higher. Stock cows and pairs weak.

Slaughter cows utility 18-22. Slaughter bulls yield grade 2-3 21.75-26. Slaughter calves choice grain fed 30-34.50, choice 25.75-30. Slaughter steers and heifers good 28.50-32.50. Slaughter steers and heifers good 28.50-32.50.

Feeder steers choice 31-34.50, good 24-30. Geeder heifers choice 19.50-25. Stock cows choice 19-22. Cow and calf pairs good and choice 145-200.

Hog receipts totaled 588 with barrows and gilts 1.00 lower, sows steady. US 1-3 brought 39.30 to 39.70. Sows US 1-3 brought 33.25-27.

Roping Events Set

Matched calf roping, jackpot calf roping, steer roping will be held at the Bar-1-Bar arena Saturday starting at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend. There will be a dance starting at 9 p.m.

NEW CASH CROP--Acres of sunflowers will join traditional crops in their march across the Texas Plains this summer. Some 200,000 acres have been planted for their oil in the Lubbock-Amarillo area and another 50,000 are scattered in South, Central and Far West Texas.

Proper Management For Breeding Herds Important

Proper management of the beef breeding herd is essential if cattlemen are going to stay in business during these times of low market prices, contends a beef cattle researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Cattlemen must give closer attention to reproduction in their herds," emphasizes Dr. J. N. Wiltbank, with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Beeville. "Reproduction has to be a year round thing if cows are to stay in good shape and calve regularly.

"Cows should calve early in the calving season. Early calving is especially important in heifers to get the reproductive cycle off to a good start. Early calving cows have a larger calf crop and a better overall reproductive performance."

Wiltbank also emphasizes the need for separating various groups of cows and feeding them according to their needs. "Young cows are slower coming into heat than older cows, so they need to be separated and fed better. In addition to the young cows, the herd should also be sorted into thin cows, fat cows, and cows that have calved. All these have different nutrient requirements."

The overall condition of the cow is vital for top reproductive performance, he notes. Pregnancy can increase 20 to 30 percent for cows in good condition compared to those that are thin. Cows should gain 120 to 140 pounds during pregnancy since they will drop that much weight at calving. Of course, the cow's nutrient requirements will double after calving so more feed will be needed.

Phosphorus is a key element for top reproductive performance and should be available at all times, Wiltbank notes.

The research scientists also stressed the need for early weaning of calves. "Early weaning is especially important when forage is short and feeding costs are high. Calves can be weaned at 40-50 days of age and can be placed on dry feed."

In determing when to begin breeding heifers, Wiltbank notes that the time of puberty is influenced by the age, weight, and particular breed of cattle. Heifers must reach certain weights to start their estrus cycyles at 14-15 months of age. This weight level varies considerably among breeds. For instance, Angus heifers will begin their cycle at a much lighter weight then Hereford or Charolais heifers.

Poultry, Egg Value Declines

AUSTIN--Cash receipts for eggs, broilers and other chickens raised in Texas was $250 million in 1974, a $15-million drop from the previous year.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, broiler production rose slightly but the average price per bird paid to farmers dropped four percent from 22.8 cents a pound to 21.3.

Egg production was down nine percent from 1973. Cash receipts from the sale of Texas' 2.3 billion eggs was $104 million, eight percent lower than a year earlier.

Chickens, excluding broilers, were up one million for an 11 million total. A 30 percent drop in price received, however, resulted in a 10 percent gross income loss. Cash receipts were $5.3 million.

Wheat Harvest At Hand . . . Production Up, Price Down . . . Milk Output Declines . . . Citrus Harvest Ends.

TEXAS WHEAT HARVEST for 1975 is at hand. Indications now are that the crop will be the largest in Texas' history. A forecast of 140 million bushels was made as of May 1. This is 20 per cent higher than the Dec. 1 estimate. It compares with the 1974 puny crop of only 52.8 million bushels.

The first of the 1975 harvest usually occurs in South Texas about this time of year. Elsewhere, wheat prospects throughout the state are regarded as good to excellent. Wheat has headed out from the Low Plains to South Texas.

Meanwhile, the 1976 national wheat allotment has been proclaimed at 61.6 million acres, up 8.1 million acres from 1975.

The allotment does not mean that that is the only acreage which can be planted to wheat. The allotment is used as a basis for making payments to wheat producers should the market price for wheat fall below the established target price or if growers qualify for disaster payments. Under these two programs, growers are eligible for payments only on alloted acres.

The 1976 national allotment is computed on the basis of an estimated national yield of 33.1 bushels per acre and estimated total utilization (less imports) for the 1976-77 marketing year of 2.04 billion bushels. Domestic use is projected at 814 million bushels, exports at 1.2 billion bushels, and imports at one million bushels.

The 8.1 million acres increase in the 1976 allotment is primarily due to a substantial improvement in the export outlook since the 1975 allotment was established.

IN CASE YOU WANT IT OFFICIAL, here are the figures from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service relating to 1974 livestock prices compared to 1973. As you might suspect, livestock prices for 1974 are below those of 1973.

Farm production was up nine per cent for all meat animals. Cattle and calf production was up 10 per cent; hog production and sheep production were down six and 25 per cent respectively.

The average price for cattle in Texas in 1974 was $34 compared with $44 in 1973. Calf prices averaged $33.70 compared with $57.70 in 1973.

The average price for hogs was $33 in 1974 compared to $37.90 a year earlier. The average sheep price of $14.20 in 1974 compares with $16.40 in 1973. Lambs averaged $35.70 in 1974 compared with $35.20 in 1973.

MILK PRODUCTION in the state continued to show a decline during March. Total milk production amounted to 291 million pounds; this is two per cent below a year ago.

CITRUS PRODUCTION in the state is ending. Based on the latest forecasts, citrus production is forecast at 11.8 million boxes. This is nearly a third below the previous season's production.

Grapefruit production is now expected to total 7.3 million boxes, which is only about a third of the total for last year. Early and mid-season oranges are estimated at 2.9 million boxes, which is 31 per cent under a year ago. Valencia oranges are forecast at 1.6 million boxes, down a third from last season.

In other crops throughout the state, cotton planting is now more than 10 per cent completed. Sorghum planting is nearing the 50 per cent completion mark while more than half the state's corn crop has been planted.

Commercial vegetable harvest is active in the Rio Grande Valley with onion harvest shipments exceeding 100 cars per day. Cantaloups, cucumbers, honeydews and tomatoes are making good progress.

ASCS

"Cotton loans for 1974 will be available through June 2, since May 31 falls on a Saturday this year, Milam County ASCS said.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cotton Loan Program Regulations provide that loans be available from the beginning of harvest through May 31 following the calendar year in which the crop is grown. Regulations also provide that when the final availability date falls on a non-workday for ASCS county office, the date shall be extended to the next workday.

Buck said loan applications must be made in the Milam county ASCS office no later than June 2. If a producer applies for a loan on June 2 and our office cannot prepare and disburse the loan on that day, Buck said, we will document the fact that the producer did apply during the availability period and will complete the loan as soon as possible thereafter."

TEXAS TALK

Two major classes of sorghum are grown in the United States. Sweet Sorghum or Sorgo accounts for about 20% of the crop and is grown for forage, silage and sorghum (often called cane) syrup. The vast majority of the crop is grain sorghum. Although grain sorghum is grown predominantly for the grain, it also acts as a dual purpose plant with stalks commonly used as forage or silage. Experts don't always agree on world sorghum production but they generally acknowledge that at least 125 million acres are now used for planting sorghum crops. Use of sorghum as a food grain in China, Africa and India ranks sorghum with corn as a contender for the third most important food grain in the world (behind wheat and rice). All estimates are not yet in for this year's acreage in grain sorghum, but indications are, although local areas may show some increase, the national crop could be reduced as much as 5 percent.

By Mrs. J. P. Wise

Mrs. J. P. Wise accompanied a group of senior citizens from Cameron on a sight seeing trip to Waco Saturday. Those enjoying this trip were Mrs. Lela Janeway, Mrs. W. M. Fanning, Miss Louise Jamison, Mrs. Estelle Lake, Mrs. Frank Sherrill, Mrs. Minta Cryer, Mrs. Lillie Tindal, Mrs. Hattie Braden and Mrs. Maud Tumlinson.

Being a senior citizen is very nice these days. We don't have to sit in our rocking chair, dip snuff and darn sox or piece quilts unless we want to. Instead we put on our rouge and lipstick, our pantsuits and away we go!!!

The countryside was so beautiful with the spring flowers and Cameron Park where we had a picnic lunch.

We want to thank the sponsors of the senior citizens bus, the Farmers Union, also thanks to Mrs. Glenda Moseley who drove for us. She is a good driver and a lovely hostess. Also thanks to Little Meredith Moseley who contributed much to our pleasure. How about putting "Milam County" somehwere on the outside of that bus!!

Out of an ancient tradition. The delicate translucent quality of "Night Blossom" china is created by craftsman whose tradition and technique go back 500 years. A mixture of the finest powdered stone and rare snow-white minerals. A curing and firing of each piece four different times during a span of many days in fierce heat. The application of three separate glazes to create a glass-hard finish that is safe in any detergent, in any home dishwasher . . . whose lovely sheen will never stain. And, the method of hand application of the charming "Night Blossom" design is itself hundreds of years old.

Savings up to one-half on "completer" pieces. You can buy the "completer" pieces whenever you like. There is no limit on the numbers you can buy at once or no other purchase is necessary. But, by shopping regularly you can buy one or two at a time and have an entire set to serve dinner on without ever disturbing the family budget.

Our residents enjoyed a recent book review, "Who's Minding the Store," written by Stanley Marcus. The review, as given by Mrs. La Verne Green, who is a very colorful speaker, helped many of her audience recall visits to Neimann-Marcus Department Store in Dallas.

Residents celebrating April birthdays were honored with a party on April 15 given by the Ladies of the Abiding Savior Lutheran Church. Those honored were Mrs. Ludmilla Plachy, Mrs. Jenny Jenkins, mr. Martin Fikes, and Mrs. Carolin Rinn.

Mrs. John Homerstad gave the devotional "Christ Lives' with scripture readings from Luke 24:30-35. We sang "He Lives," and "I Am Thine O Lord." Happy birthday wishes and a birthday cake with one candle were presented to each honoree.

Refreshmens were furnished by Mrs. Edna Rosenberg, Mrs. Tom Woods, Mrs. Tutt Urban, Mrs. Bentley Hause, Mrs. LaVerne Goode, Mrs. Helen Fuchs, and Mrs. Jeannie Orsag.

Mrs. Franklin Glaser, Mrs. John Homerstad, Mrs. Bentley Hause, Mrs. Sophie Provasek, Mrs. douglas Buck, Mrs. Arthur von Rosenberg, Mrs. Tom Woods, and Mrs. Ben Tepera furnished the program and visited with each patient.

Current events were presented by Mrs. Nelson Green on April 16. She read about a Dallas woman who helped a small black blind boy with his bus trip to Austin. The child was going to the State School for the Blind and was traveling all alone.

She brought us the story of the Vietnamese orphans and Operation Babylift.

Mrs. Lucille Cameron, a Church of Christ missionary, held the Thursday, April 10 church service. Mrs. Cameron visits the home most every Thursday and encourages her people to attend church.

Mrs. Sharon McCullin sang "It Took a Miracle," Mrs. Mildred Hause accompanied her on the piano. Rev. J. E. Lafferty gave the benediction.

Sunday, April 13 church service was delivered by Nelson Green. Miss Verna Harris and Mrs. Edna Wilkerson led the singing.

Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. M. Bowley and his church choir visited the home and sang for our patients. We appreciate the singing very much. Even our bed patients can hear the music and are able to express their enjoyment.

There are ways to bridge the communication gap for those who can't talk in mechanical jargon. One of the ways is to participate in the "Car Talk for Women," series being held at the Thrall High School Cafetiria on May 6 at 3 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. These programs are sponsored by the Milam County Extension Service, Williamson County Extension Service, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

These programs will be given by Henry O'Neal and Wayne Keese of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas. Both gentlemen are agricultural engineers.

These programs are the second in a series. The presentations will include: "Under-the-hood Parts Identification," "Tires and Preventative Maintenance," "Catalytic Converters." "Fuel Selection," "Inspection stickers," and "Buying a New or Used Car."

MR. and MRS. L. C. BURKE

Couple Celebrates Anniversary

Of special interest to many friends in Milam County and Central Texas was the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of a well-known Davilla couple, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burke on Saturday, April 26.

A reunion of their children and relatives was the occasion for much enjoyment to the couple as messages of congratulations and best wishes were received from their friends. Their children and grandchildren were the hosts.

A wedding cake of three tier design, decorated with golden bells and roses, and inscribed with "50th" centered the dining table for the evening meal which was served buffet style. The blessing was given by their pastor, Rev. George Doss of Rockdale.

Their children, present with their families, included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burke, Paula, Bobby, and Randy of Irving; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Turner, Sheri, Janna, and Toni of San Antonio. There were guests from Davilla, Sharp, Tracy, Rockdale, Cameron, Bartlett, Belton, Salado, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Rockwall, Abilene, Pasadena, Irving, and Dallas.

Mrs. Burke, the former Miss Jimige Vitwar and Mr. Burke were married at her parents' home near Davilla April 26, 1925, by Rev. J. W. Black of Davilla. In the wedding party 50 years ago were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Underwood Sr. They were represented at the anniversary by their son, Thomas Jr., and wife of Rockdale. Mrs. C. A. Hine was also a member of the wedding party and was represented by her son, Theodore and wife of Davilla.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke are both retired and live a fairly active life. Milam County has been their home most of their lives, and they have a host of friends who wish them many more happy years together.

Proper First Aid Is Vital For Snakebites

To a person bitten by a poisonous snake, the 30 minutes following the bite could be the most important half hour of his life.

Even though few people are killed by snakebites, proper first aid immediately after the bite can save the victim much suffering and reduce the chance of a crippling injury.

There always has been considerable controversay on first-aid treatment for snakebites, even among the scientific community. Treatments in favor one year are often discarded the next or debunked by professionals and sportsmen.

Officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say that three things should be done following the strike of a venomous snake: apply a constriction band above the bite, keep the victim calm, and secure the snake.

The constriction band should be applied two or three inches above the bite. A shoelace, handkerchief, rubber band, or torn peice of clothing will make a suitable constriction band.

Snake venom moves through the lumphatic system just beneath the skin. The band should be tight enough only to reduce surface circulation. It should be loosened for two-minute periods every 15 minutes.

The band should be moved upward as swelling progresses. A constriction band should never be used for more than four hours.

Keep the victim calm. If possible, make him lie down. Assure him that snakebites, while painful, are seldom fatal.

Like any posion, the more you get, the more serious the problem. Approximately 30 percent of snakebite victims receive no venom and do not require treatment. Another 30 percent do not get enough venom to worry about but eventually require treatment. Only 40 precent require extensive and rapid treatment.

If several people are around they can find and capture and kill the snake while initial first aid is administered. Capturing or killing the snake is necessary for proper identification. Different kinds of snakes can require different kinds of definitive treatment.

A snake can bite several times and even snakes which have been freshly killed can still bite through reflex action. Carefully pick up the snake with a stick and put it in a cloth bag or box to have it available for reference.

If the snake is identified as non-poisonous, treat the wound like any other puncture. Non-poisonous snakes usually leave several teeth marks; the fangs from a poisonous snake will leave two major punctures, sometime s one.

If the snake is identified as a poisonous one and you are within 15 to 20 minutes of a hospital, immobilize the affected part of the body with a splint or strap and take the victim to a hospital.

Pain itself is not a good indication of a poisonous snakebite because the shock of any bite can cause both real and imagined symptoms.

More reliable symptoms of a venomous bite are swelling around the affected area, drowsiness, weakeess, dripping of watery fluid from the wound, or no tingling sensations from the muscles within a few minutes after a bite.

Incision and suction are two of the most debatable treatments for snake bite. Often the treatment is more serious than the snake bite.

'Bentsen Bill' To Cost An Estimated $200,000

The State Comptroller's office has put an estimate 1976 price-tag of $200,000.00 on a presidential primary bill now awaiting action by a conference committee of the Texas House and Senate.

Under the important pay-as-you-go provision in the Texas Constitution, the State Comptroller is charged with making cost estimates, prior to certifying that legislative appripriations will cover proposed expenditures.

The controversial primary bill, H.B. 679, by Rep. Tom Schieffer of Ft. Worth and Sen. Don Adams of Jasper, has been widely touted as a bill specifically designed to boost U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen's presidential chances in the state.

Three State Representatives and a former Democratic National Committeewoman responded to the $200,000 estimate with statements protesting what they termed the "exorbitant costs' of the bill "in view of the many more pressing needs of the people of this state which are already having to go unmet because of the lack of adequate funds."

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, a leading proponent of better education, commented, "It is heartbreaking to me to think we could spend $200,000 to elect less than 140 delegates to two brief national conventions (Democratic and Republican) where their only important function will be to cast one pre-decided vote.

Evangelist Team Settles In Dumas

A husband and wife evangelistic team, both from Central Texas, have settled in Dumas permanently after more than three years of touring churches in a six-state area.

They are Michael and Jackie Pate, who were married in 1971 and later toured Texas, Louisiana, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Washington as evangelists, settled in Dumas early this year after Michael was offered an associate pastor's post at Community Chapel.

Jackie is the former Jackie Robbins of Cameron, daughter of a Cameron minister who also heads a mission in Nuevo Laredo. Michael's uncle, J. P. Pate, is pastor of the Dumas Community Chapel. Mike is from Gatesville.

Both attended Temple Commercial College, where Jackie studied secretarial work and Michael received an accounting degree.

During their evangelistic campaigns, Michael gave the sermons while Jackie joined him for musical duets, and often add accompaniment with piano, organ, accordion or guitar.

"When people think of evangelism, they usually think of church and tent meetings," the Pates said. "But our evangelistic work has been broader, including home meetings, talks before business groups, and a radio program."

Mike is the head of an evangelical association which carries his name, and the couple still produce a free monthly newsletter which carries sermonettes, testimonials and news from evangelical trips.

Texas Taxe$

By BOB BULLOCK
State Comptroller

Austin–It has often been said that there is nothing certain but death and taxes. Perhaps the line was originally meant to apply to our inheritance taxes.

The Texas inheritance tax is one of the most overlooked state taxes, probably because it has liberal exemptions and is so much smaller than federal estate taxes. The Comptroller's Department collects about $50 million in inheritance taxes annually, one of the minor sources of state revenue.

We get reports on only a fraction of the persons who die and leave things of value to their heirs. Last year we looked at more than 31,500 returns but found only 15,000 of them to be taxable.

The Texas tax is completely different from the federal tax. The federal tax is levied on the deceased person's estate, regardless of who inherits it or how it is divided, and the tax is taken before the estate is divided.

Our tax is levied on the persons who receive the inheritance and the exemptions and rates vary according to the several classes of heirs.

The first class of heirs includes the spouse, mother, father, son, daughter, and grandchildren. Regardless of the number of heirs, each heir in this class is given a $25,000 exemption before the tax applies.

The rates for this classification, after the $25,000 exemption, are one per cent for inheritances between $25,000 and $50,000, two per cent for $50,000 to $100,000, three per cent for $100,000 to $200,000, four per cent for $200,000 to $500,000, five per cent for $500,000 to $1 million, and six per cent above $1 million.

Brothers and sisters are another classification and they get a $10,000 exemption. Their graduated rates start at three per cent. Aunts, uncles and cousins get a $1,000 exemption and their rates start at four per cent. Unrelated persons receive a $500 exemption and rates start at five per cent.

Property and money passed on to charitable, educational or religious organizations are, of course, exempt from inheritance taxes.

The $25,000 exemption for members of the immediate family means our tax doesn't fall on many heirs.

State Farm offers the LOWEST RATES among the leading car insurers in Texas.

For most Texas drivers, State Farm has rates that are 15% less than the new rates set by the State. Why pay more than you have to? Call me for details.

"I never want to move again!" I told a friend. Even before the moving van arrived, there were days of sorting, discarding and carefully packing the things we treasure. There were farewells and last minute errands.

Then early one morning, the huge truck came lumbering up the street, and the movers began loading beds, tables, chairs, dishes and books. After several hours, the last box was in the van, and our belongings were on their way to a new home.

A new home, new friends, new community—so many things with which to become acquainted.

The church is a fine place to get a new start—to make new friends and strike up a vital relationship with the Maker of us all.
